NORTHERN NECK POLITICS

The Free-for-All Fight Gives the Republicans a Chance to Win.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HEATHSVILLE, VA., Oct. 3.—The political fight in the counties of the Northern Neck is about at its height. Every aspirant is fighting with much zeal and determination, and all are exceedingly sanguine. In Northumberland politics have quieted down, and the primaries have about settled the issue. In Stafford County, the only fight now in progress is for the Legislature. Dr. W. P. Snyder and J. C. Palmer are the candidates. In the Westmoreland campaign, the two must be disappointed, but it is thought that Dr. Snyder and Mr. Cobb will be the disappointed candidates. In the other counties of the Neck are about at "fever heat," and there is no doubt but that this campaign will be the most exciting and spirited and interesting one ever known in these counties. Many of the candidates are the leading and very best men we have—men who have seen the storm of many campaigns, and who are not unused to public service.

In Lancaster the public opinion as to the success of the various aspirants is continually changing, and no one can predict the result of the election. The Democrats who have all along flattered themselves that there would be no party lines drawn in the campaign are surely disappointed, for the Republicans are organizing, and if they do not have nominating conventions they will determine upon a special candidate for each office, while the free-for-all fight has allowed a large number of Democrats to enter the fight for every office, thus dividing the Democratic vote and giving the Republicans a solid one.

There are six candidates for the office of commissioner of revenue—five Democrats and one Republican—and there is but very little doubt about the Republican being elected. For Commonwealth's attorney there are three candidates—Messrs. Downing, present incumbent; Robinson and Newland. In spite of the fact that Mr. Newland is an exceedingly popular man, it is thought that Mr. Downing will be elected without any trouble.

The graded school here opened Monday with Mr. Balsey I. Marsh as principal, and Miss Rose and Beale as assistants. Other schools in the county will open on the 12th.

A. E. Keach and wife of Wichita, Kas., are spending some time here visiting friends and relatives. Mr. J. H. Todd, of Alexandria, is visiting friends here. Miss Bessie Adams, of Coan, is spending some time in this town.

VIVA VOCE IS SATISFACTORY

The Plan Worked Exceedingly Well in Nottoway.

COUNTY OFFICERS NEXT

They Will Be Chosen at the Regular Fall Election—Invention to Entirely Eliminate the Danger from Open Switches.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BLACKSTONE, VA., Oct. 3.—The primary held in this county Tuesday for member of the Legislature demonstrated very clearly that there can be no contention arising under the present plan of voting by viva voce. Some may have been deterred from attending the polls, but a greater number took part in the election than have ever attended a mass-meeting, and both sides to the contest expressed satisfaction at the manner in which the election was conducted.

Both sides showed much activity during the day, and this precinct gave Mr. Fowles, of Amelia, the largest vote of any other precinct in Nottoway, in fact as large as any other two. There is no bitterness left, however, and both sides are joking the other over the recent scrap. Nottoway is different from most any other county in the State. They can fight, and fight savagely, but as soon as it is over peace reigns again, and erstwhile friends are friends again, and enemies no longer.

Another thing that has been demonstrated, is that there is no break in Nottoway's Democratic ranks. They may fight among themselves, but they present a common front to the enemy, and may always be relied upon to do their duty when the time comes.

COUNTY CONTEST.

With the settlement of the legislative fight all attention is now turned to the contest for county officers, which will be determined in the regular election on the 2d of November. It was decided to make no nominations for these, and it was left a free fight to the general election. Up to this time it seems all are claiming the election, but this cannot be true, there must be some disappointments.

The patent for an invention has just been applied for by Mr. T. A. Bowen, of this place, which, if reports be true, will revolutionize the running of railroad trains and entirely eliminate the possibility of danger from open switches. The invention is an automatic switch which is controlled by the engineer in his engine. He merely sets the machinery for a closed switch and lo! the switch is closed, or vice versa for the reverse. Mr. Bowen claims for his invention that all the switches may be left open for any length of the line of railroad, and by simply setting the machinery for a straight track, all the switches will be closed at the proper time without any further thought on the part of the engineer.

RUNS AGAINST RED LIGHTS.

He simply runs along against red lights or anything else and he finds the switches closed whenever he reaches them. Mr. Bowen is a wagon builder by trade and quite a genius in his line. He has given considerable thought to his invention, and feels that he has finally solved the problem of automatic switches. If this proves true he not only has fame and fortune awaiting him, but will become the savior of many human lives and

BURNED DISTRICT RESTORED.

All the new business houses erected upon the district burned in the large February fire have now been completed, and all but one are occupied, and with this and one another exception there is not a vacant business house in the town, nor a vacant residence. This new row of buildings add greatly to the appearance and permanency of the town, and in the end the fire will have proven a blessing instead of a curse.

Nearly or quite all of the tobacco in this section has been safely housed, and reports of the curing are very gratifying. The crop is a good one and the quantity, is well up with the average.

There is also a fine yield of corn throughout this entire tract of country, and there will be no need of seeing the graineries of kind, for the feed. All the spare feed will be put into stock, and the raising of stock is becoming more a part of the farmer's investment in this section each year. The scarcity of labor is curtailing the average planter to crops, and increasing that needed to graze for stock raising.

PICKETT-STUART CAMP.

At a recent meeting of Pickett-Stuart Camp of Confederate Veterans of this county, Messrs. J. W. Jones, T. W. Epps, T. H. Vaughan and R. H. Ingram, were appointed delegates to attend the meeting of the Grand Camp of the State, which will be held in Newport News on the 28th, 29th and 30th of this month. Judge W. H. Mann, the commandant, was appointed delegate-at-large.

The alternates are J. L. Powell, Jr., J. W. Hardaway, G. W. Leath and W. H. Jeffress. The camp also appointed Miss Delle M. Powell, of Falmouth, as maid of honor, and Miss Maud Willy as maid of honor. Both of the young ladies have accepted and both hope to attend. They will, of course, go as the guest of the camp.

WEDDED IN WILMINGTON

Miss Maggie Smith the Bride of Patrick Sears.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 3.—Mr. Patrick Sears, of Wilmington, and Miss Maggie Smith, of Whiteville, were married at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at Whiteville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. H. Barnes. The wedding was white and green, and was of great interest on account of the prominence of the young couple. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. A. Smith, a prominent citizen of Columbus county.

The bride and groom left for Philadelphia via Norfolk. Among the visitors at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sears, Miss Bessie Sears and Miss Lydia Yates, of Wilmington; Mrs. A. W. Daily, of Connetquot, and Mrs. J. M. Carroll, and Mrs. E. T. Williams, of Lake Waccamaw.

WIFE MURDERER'S TRIAL

Staunton Huntsmen Kill Big Game in Canada—Violators of the Law Against Selling to Minors Are Heavily Fined.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

STAUNTON, VA., October 3.—There was filed in the Corporation Court here Tuesday evening a charter for the Virginia Power Corporation, with a capital of from $500 to $50,000, the home office of same to be in Staunton. The second trial of William Massey, charged with the murder of his gypsy wife, now was held here several weeks ago, was called in the County Court, and is now occupying the attention of the court. It will take several days to conclude this case. It will be remembered that this is Massey's second trial. At the other trial, held some time since, the jury failed to agree, seven being for hanging him and five for life sentence.

Mr. Gilpin Willson, one of the gentlemen who left here several weeks ago on a hunting trip to New Brunswick, has written home to a friend, and says that he had the remarkable good luck of killing a 1,200 pound moose and a large deer. Mr. G. H. Caperton, also one of the party, says Mr. Willson killed a large caribou.

GOLDSMITH BACK.

J. M. Goldsmith, the lunatic, who some fifteen days ago, in company with a patient named Angell, of Richmond, who was called in the County Court, and is now occupying the attention of the court. ## CONGENIAL AT 408.

Mr. J. T. Pettit, a merchant of Goshen, this county, spent quite a day in Staunton, and shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Pettit is probably the largest man in the State of Virginia, he tipping the scales at 408 pounds and being built in proportion. He is a very congenial sort of fellow.

Mr. B. L. Powers, of Richmond, after a business visit of some length in this city, has returned home. Mrs. J. W. Twigg, of Georgia, who has been visiting in this city for some time, is now in Baltimore visiting friends, and

THE LYNCHBURG HORSE SHOW

Splendid Classes to Be Exhibited in the Ring.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, VA., October 3.—Everything is in readiness for the opening night of the second annual exhibition of the Lynchburg Horse Show. The work upon the ring has been completed, and the tankard put in place. The thirty additional box stables made necessary by the large number of exhibitors, have been turned over to the association by the contractor, and the chairs for the reserved seats have been put in place. The interior of the building has been tastefully decorated with the colors of ribbons representing the standards in the different classes, and brilliantly illuminated, as it is with the thirty-six arc lights and hundreds of incandescents, presents a most attractive appearance.

At 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, when the last of the season's latest and most thrilling march are echoing through the building, the gates will be thrown open, and the Lynchburg Horse Show is on. Into the ring will step the graces of the season, and the spectators will be gathered together in the South. How the judges will be pained by the merits of such horses as Belmar, Brandon, Newbury, Shoptail, Brownette, Lady Dainty and many others equally well known to horse show enthusiasts, such battling for the coveted blue ribbon, as if he were conscious of the gaze of the thousands of eyes riveted upon him!

Next come the pair roadsters. Here the best show ring material in the South will be exhibited. Notably Mr. H. M. Schuchert's dainty little pair, Helen II. and Alice M., that have never won anything but a blue; Garber and Garber's Truth, three times a winner this season, and Mr. A. T. Canada's team of big, good-looking chestnut geldings. Then will come

MAN ABOUT TOWN

By HARRY TUCKER

We wish to express a bunch of indignation. We do not see why we should have been picked out from among the members of the Birds' Club and the banquet as the last speaker, and then be treated to the indignity of being howled down, as we were making our remarks.

It doesn't seem to be right, and we are going to bring the matter up at the next regular meeting and have it passed upon. Aside from that, we had a good time at the banquet, and it is our hope that Mister Campbell, the worthy chairman of the club, will have as good a time the rest of his life as he made it for his guests.

And Mr. Harry Glenn was a good toastmaster. He was a stranger in the club, but it didn't take him three seconds to get on speaking terms to the Birds and their guests, and then everything went along swimmingly.

If it hadn't been for Walter Chester, Lester, Pete Curley and Will Horgan, "The Governor's Son" Company, and Wilkie Freeman and Lonnie Wilson, there wouldn't have been much talked about politics and politics.

But that bunch of invited guests took some good ones, and it took till 4 A. M. to get the limit, and we shall never forget the first anniversary supper of "The Birds' Club," which started in at 1 A. M. to 4 A. M.

And we don't feel so bad about the head either, for notwithstanding all the things that were passed around, we got through and came down the street and passed under the wire with good will.

And we are also reminded that Mr. George Koefarver bids three, too. His remarks were confined mainly to the Birds' Club and the Convention, which he placed clearly before the people, with one or two interruptions by Mr. Rice and Mr. Silchinger, who endeavored to have a committee appointed to go after some of the absent members.

Mr. Perry, who ticks away the Associated Press stuff, told how to send a wireless telephone message on the type-writer.

And the newspaper boys told how easy it was to get a story from a fellow who didn't want to give up.

Letters and telegrams were read from a number of prominent people, sending congratulations to the club upon its first anniversary.

THE Y'S REPORT

An Interesting Part of the Convention at Charlottesville.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Oct. 3.—At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. convention here the chairman called the roll of the "Y" unions, which was responded to by the delegates from each with their local motto.

Each "Y" president present made a short talk, telling what had proved most helpful to their union in the past year. Charlottesville, among the ways, its president, Miss L. H. Brown, said that the local union campaign, instead of oppressing us, served to arouse us to renewed activity. This had been their strong point.

Excellent "Y" Petersburg, has a "White Ribbon Band," composed of twenty-eight young men, who wear the white bow and furnish excellent music for all temperance occasions.

Golden Rule "Y," Richmond, has two physical culture classes, and its members are actively engaged in the great fight against intemperance.

Richmond "Y" has done much good work in a great number of ways. Its efficient president, Mrs. G. M. Johnson, made a beautiful talk on the work of this year.

All the unions are doing some good work. Some of them furnish rooms for hospitals, some have committees to visit and help the poor in their neighborhood, and many other similar lines of work are taken up.

Paper, "Why I Am a White Ribboner," was read by Miss Martha Brown, of Lynchburg. This paper was well written and admirably read. Miss Estelle Rudd also read a fine paper on the same subject.

Mrs. Hoge gave to the "Y's" words of encouragement, telling them there was never a time when their efforts were needed as much as at this present time.

Miss Lora Burgess, of Richmond, read the "Y's" report, prepared by Miss Laura Smith. It was not as large a report as the "Y's" had several years back, but the Miss Smith attributes this to the fact that the method of reporting the work has been somewhat changed, and many unions failed to report at all. The president also tried to excuse the seeming falling off of the work of the "Y's."

Quincy, a large amount of money spent by Richmond "Y" did not appear in the secretary's report, attention being called to that fact by Mrs. Johnson.

Paper, "How a Y Does L. T. L. Work," was read by Miss Ada Richmond, of Lynchburg. This paper was well prepared and was enjoyed greatly by the convention.

Mrs. Burgess, who so delighted the large audience last night, addressed this conference, after which Mrs. T. W. Dick, of Reliance, read an excellent paper on "What Can a College Y Do?"

It was fully decided to publish an extra edition of the October number of the Call, to be exclusively convention edition. After all the unions had ordered the new edition of this copy that they desired to be printed, the president called for a motion that this edition be ordered to be printed. The motion, of course, was made and carried.
